

Statement of Purpose – Apple Orchard, Bramley November 2024

Apple Orchard, Bramley has been closed since February 2024 and there is a temporary freeze on admissions. A home manager has been appointed in October 2024 and is currently in the process of registering with OFSTED.

The home is being prepared for re-opening in early 2025.

Apple Orchard uses a holistic approach combining the disciplines of residential care, education, and therapy, all three being important in what they offer to combat the tenets of harmful sexual behaviour exhibited by young people.

Outcomes

The therapeutic model is based upon that of the Good Lives Model. Outcomes are based on a progression of those factors identified for each young person throughout the placement in assisting them to develop the skills, abilities, and motivation to go on to live an offence-free life. Outcomes at end of placement are measurable via psychometric and observational measures. General outcomes include:

- The young person to have experienced positive life events in all areas of their lives, inclusive of experiences of achievement.
- The young person to have experienced safe and supportive relationships
- The young person to have engaged in education and to have begun or ready to begin further education or vocational training.
- The young person to have had the opportunity to develop and reflect on a coherent story of what has happened to them and what is happening to them
- The young person to have had an opportunity to identify and develop talents and interests
- The young person having developed the skills to initiate and maintain positive relationships

- The young person to have developed positive social skills
- The young person to have developed positive problem-solving skills
- The young person to have developed a sense of identity, inclusive of sexual identity
- The young person to have developed an understanding of how to meet sexual needs in a healthy way.
- The young person to have developed independent living skills consistent with their abilities
- The young person to be able to communicate their need(s) through positive avenues
- The young person to have identified and developed a relapse prevention plan to desist from further offending.
- To have assisted the young person to safely interact with the wider community
- To assist the young person with a positive transition into the community

Achieving the Outcomes

In order to enable us to identify needs, encourage change and track progress and success, the following systems are used in order to support the young people to achieve the desired outcomes for their placement:

ICON (Identifying Current and Ongoing Needs): This is the assessment and intervention framework for all young people at Bramley. All disciplines contribute to its completion, and it is reviewed in collaboration with the young person, therapist Head of School and his keyworker.

The ICON document incorporates the Good Lives Model, Psychometric outcomes, and Personal Education Plan. The process of completing the ICON allows each young person to identify and agree a series of S.M.A.R.T. goals (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, Time-limited) on which to focus over a twelve-week period.

Assessment of Risk and Treatment needs: When a young person begins their placement, Assessment takes on a holistic form. Alongside the behavioural risk assessment described below, the young person completes a number of psychometric assessments which are written into a report format. The allocated therapist engages in collating background information as well as interview through therapy sessions with the young person. This, along with psychometric outcomes and conversations with teaching, management and care staff forms a thorough assessment of risk and treatment needs aimed to identify a formulation of behaviour, therapeutic needs, engagement/progress in therapy, levels of supervision required and likelihood of further involvement in harmful sexual behaviour. The time period during which a full assessment report is completed will vary, dependent on the young person's abilities and willingness to engage, although ideally this will be within the first three months of placement.

Psychometric assessments are individually tailored to the needs of the young person and are re-administered annually during the placement to monitor progress of the young person's therapy as well as identify ongoing therapeutic needs. Additional specific assessments can be conducted or sourced where needed.

Should a young person be subject to on-going criminal investigation for an alleged sexual offence, careful consideration involving discussions with multiagency partners (social worker, police) will need to be made to assess whether assessment should await completion of any legal proceedings.

Behavioural Management Plans & Risk Assessments: Each young person will have a behavioural management plan and risk assessment prepared for them. This will identify known risk related behaviour and how these risks are best managed; the young people are involved in preparing these plans as their responses to risk management and their views on their own risk related behaviours will form an important part of how staff manage these known risks. These assessments are updated by the Care team at regular intervals throughout their placement and in the event on any additional risk factors being identified. They include reviews of recent Incidents and whether risk management factors have been successful or require changes. The therapy team also complete a strengths and risks assessment which complements other care and support planning documentation.

Key working programme: Each young person is allocated a key worker, who is their first point of contact when assisting them with their care needs these include behavioural issues, behaviour management measures and liaising with outside agencies to ensure the needs of the young person are met. Key workers produce a monthly progress report and Statutory Review report for each young person.

Group and Individual Supervision: Staff benefit from both individual supervision, with a line manager which takes place every 4-6 weeks and group supervision, facilitated by one of the home's therapists; allowing them to gain insight and work through issues which arise from working with young males with harmful sexual behaviour.

A consistent staff team who use clear and firm boundaries: Staff provide a nurturing, homely environment for the young people to develop emotional resilience and positive relationships with each other and the adults who care for them. Attention is paid to the young people's age and level of understanding and emotional intelligence. Placement plans are devised in order to reflect the young people's levels of ability and understanding and their learning styles.

The staff team work together with the education and therapy teams to provide a consistent approach, and firm boundaries and routines for the young people, which allow them to feel safe and support change.

The three disciplines of residential care, education and therapy work together and separately using the above frameworks to achieve positive outcomes for each young person.

Rationale

Young people placed at Apple Orchard will have come from a variety of backgrounds and with varying life experiences but commonly have been subject to varying levels of trauma. They have often suffered sexual, physical, emotional abuse and neglect, with exposure to trauma and/ or absence of secure attachments, care, or positive role models. Young people will not have had the opportunity to develop normal, healthy, and effective cognitions or behaviours often resorting to maladaptive ways of coping, such as harmful sexual behaviours. These behaviours will have placed themselves and others at risk. Effectively, they are deprived of the capacity to thrive in their own families, within their peer group, within mainstream education or indeed ordinary care settings and can feel isolated. We recognise the vital role that nurture plays in combatting the damaging effects of neglect and trauma. We continually demonstrate our core beliefs that each child is of unique intrinsic worth, through the excellent standard of care we provide. Of great importance is to ensure that the young people in our care are protected and feel safe. Our experience tells us that a combination of security, support, continuity, and predictability, provides the foundation which has helped the vast majority of those placed with us and is the vehicle through which young people can develop strong attachments and improve their relationships, factors which are inextricably linked to harmful sexual behaviour.

Criteria of Admission

Apple Orchard is a Therapeutic Home providing 24-hour care for up to 8 young males aged 11-18 years. We are one of the best-known and well-established homes working with this client group.

We continue to be at the forefront in the provision of residential care for these difficult to place young people. Apple Orchard provides 52-week care, with onsite full-time education in its purpose-built school which is DfE registered and judged Good with Outstanding in personal development by Ofsted. We also provide a comprehensive therapy programme including weekly individual and group therapy.

We work specifically with young males who have displayed harmful sexual behaviour. Although we cannot offer support for profound disabilities, we do work with young people displaying a range of special educational needs including Dyspraxia and mild – moderate learning disabilities. These include ADHD, Asperger's Syndrome and young people whose behaviour falls within the Autistic Spectrum.

Due to the nature of the work, we are unable to offer emergency placements.

The criteria for admission must be that all young people display or have displayed harmful sexual behaviour and would benefit from the program of Educational and Therapeutic support offered by Apple Orchard. It is also important for the work at Apple Orchard that the young people see this placement as a viable option to them, and that they agree to the terms of the placements and agree to engage in the therapeutic process.

Referral Procedure

- The Initial referral is made by the placing authority either by phone or email and passed to the referral team to assess.
- Referral team will call the Placements Team in order to gain an overview of the reason for the referral, the current behaviour being displayed by the young person and requirements of the potential placement. All Information is recorded on the Compatibility Assessment form and shared with the Home Manager, Clinical Lead and Headteacher. Each will make an individual assessment on if the identified needs can be met, the impact of the admission on the young people currently resident and whether any additional information, training and support would need to be implemented prior to a placement offer being made. During this process, the most suitable home would also be identified, taking into account the identified needs of the young person being referred and the needs of the current young people placed at each home.

- Initial Visit – the young person is invited to visit the home and meet the staff and other young people; this allows both the young person to gain an understanding of the placement and Apple Orchard to determine whether we would be able to meet the young person's needs. Within this visit the process of the placement will be explained and the young people will be given a full understanding of the therapeutic process. It is also encouraged that the Placing Social Worker and Family visit the home at this time.
- Pre-placement information is requested by the referral team and must be provided prior to placement offer. Any additional information would be added to the Compatibility Assessment and shared for consultation with the Therapy and Education departments prior to any further offers being made. If the referral is appropriate and each department feel that they are able to meet the identified needs of the young person.

Statement of Facilities and Range of Needs

The home is a detached property surrounded by extensive grounds. Within the grounds there is a football pitch, a basketball court and a cycle shed. The entire property enjoys a secluded position, well fenced and not easily visible from the road.

The house has 8 bedrooms in total, 3 downstairs and a further 5 upstairs. Each boy has their own room with a lock on the door and at no time will bedrooms be shared. Each room has been repainted in a neutral colour that is ready to be personalised to their own taste.

All bedrooms belonging to the boys are alarmed for safety purposes and this enables the staff on duty during the day and the waking-night staff to be aware of the young persons movement in and out of their rooms at all times for supervision purposes. This is risk assessed individually but due to the needs and risks of the whole cohort of children and young people, we generally do need to have alarm monitoring systems in place to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all children.

The alarm system and the reasons for having it here are explained to the young person on their admission and consent from the placing authority is in each young person's file. There is an upstairs bathroom comprising of bath, basin and toilet. Two shower rooms, both with basin and toilet, are located downstairs. There is a separate staff sleeping-in room which incorporates an en-suite shower room and toilet which is located on the ground floor. A staff/visitor's toilet is adjacent to the staff sleeping-in room.

There is a laundry room downstairs with a sink, 2 washing machines and 2 tumble dryers.

There is a large, fully equipped kitchen where all food preparation takes place. Adjacent to the kitchen is a communal area with a table and chairs to comfortably seat 10 people for dining purposes. There is a lower dining area with table and chairs to seat a further 4 people. Within this area there are also easy chairs along with a TV and computer for recreational use. Situated through the main part of the house, and overlooking the extensive grounds, is a large conservatory, comfortably furnished with sofas, armchairs, coffee tables, lamps and a bookcase. There is also a TV/DVD. To the right of the lower living area is a second lounge/games room for the use of the young people.

There is also a staff office, where staff personal belongings can be kept during a shift and where the young person's medication is securely stored and administered. There is also a main office for the home manager.

Location of the Home

The home is located in a semi-rural setting, close to a small village with good transport links and near a larger town with leisure and retail facilities. The home's location is risk assessed annually; taking into account any issues or incidents experienced by the home, the local crime figures for the area, as well as, due to the semi-rural location emergency response times.

We liaise with the local Police for the area and the local authority placement teams to identify and manage any issues with the location of the home.

Care

Apple Orchard recruit staff who have had experience working with challenging young people and who display an aptitude for the work. As a result of this and alongside ongoing training, support, and supervision the team is well managed, stable, and consistent which in turn meets the needs of the young people. Staff are able to spend quality time with the young people and allow opportunities for open communication both between themselves and the young people and between the other disciplines within the home in the form of daily handovers with Education and regular feedback from therapy. This open communication allows the team to respond effectively to the needs of the young people, both as a group and individually.

The views of the young people are valued, and they have regular opportunities to discuss issues and concerns regarding the quality of their care, make requests and give feedback on their progress. This takes place in daily handovers, weekly meetings, and the opportunity to call a house meeting to discuss or air any issue that may arise during the day. The young people have access to senior staff and the management team to discuss any aspect of their care and are able to raise a complaint either through this process, their social worker or independent visitor, IRO or Ofsted.

The young people are supported in making decisions about their daily lives as well as issues which may affect the group or home, giving them a strong sense of belonging. They are encouraged to have an understanding of the progress they are making therapeutically and to be realistic about the changes they have made, and the role they play in these changes.

All young people are allocated a key worker on their arrival, and every effort is made to match the right person to each child. This allows them to start to develop appropriate relationships to be modelled for the future. The keyworker will act as the facilitator in identifying the ongoing needs of the young people and ensuring that these needs are met, however this is not completed in isolation. The key worker will work with education staff, the therapy team, and other members of the care team to ensure all needs are considered, identified, and met. Apple Orchard ensures that all of the needs, including cultural, linguistic, and religious needs are met and the young people are encouraged to make appropriate choices in these areas.

Many of the young people have a history of difficult relationships and attachment difficulties. Staff work to encourage and support young people to be able to develop and maintain appropriate relationships with their peers, the wider group in school and their family. Family contact is facilitated well, and the staff team understand the importance of contact for both the young person and their family. Contact can be facilitated both at the home or off-site in the local area or in a location convenient for the young person's family. Arrangements can vary dependent on the needs of the child and can be supervised and supported by staff if this would be beneficial. Young people have access to a phone in order to them to make and receive calls to family in private.

Staff encourage those young people who have limited family contact to access independent support through independent visitors or advocacy services provided by their placing authority.

The young people have come from a variety of backgrounds; their understanding of their own cultural identity can be limited and as part of the key working and therapy programmes they are encouraged and supported to explore their heritage and gain a clearer understanding of their backgrounds, ethnicity, and family culture. This work will also support an understanding of their sexual identity and support is available through the staff and therapy team to create a safe space for the young people to explore their own identity as it develops.

The young people access Education at Apple Orchard School. Additional linguistic or communication needs will be identified throughout their placement and catered for with external support, if necessary, this work is completed in conjunction with their placing authority. Apple Orchard has experience in working with young people with a wide range of educational needs and those who have previously been excluded from mainstream Education and have assisted them to improve and develop their understanding and use of language and their ability to express themselves.

Apple Orchard promotes care practices in a non-discriminatory way where all children and young people are valued as individuals regardless of age, race, gender, colour, sexuality, disability, or religious beliefs.

Apple Orchard expect that all young people and their families are treated in a fair and respectful manner, and this is positively challenged and discussed with supervision, team meetings and young person's meetings.

We uphold the Principles of Care, for promoting anti-discriminatory practice and promotion of children's rights, respect and dignity as follows:

1. Children and young people have the right to live in a home that is safe, warm, happy, nurturing, stable, valuing, affectionate, and secure, free from abuse and recognises their individual needs.
2. Children and young people have the right to have full access to education, health care, social life, community facilities, and have the opportunity to live a full life as possible.
3. Children and young people have the right to be listened to, express themselves, take full part in decisions affecting them, have things explained to them and have the right to complain.
4. Children and young people have the right to privacy, space, time and dignity, have fun and are allowed to be a child.
5. Children and young people have the right to their religious, cultural, dietary needs and to celebrate their individuality.

Young People are admitted to the home due to their high-risk behaviours. They often have experienced trauma during their childhood and have had insecure attachments and a history of care that has not successfully addressed their needs. It is unsurprising that many of the young people have difficulties with Education, self-worth, forming relationships, keeping themselves safe and being safe with others. However, there is a remarkable degree of change achieved as a result of living at Apple Orchard.

Progress is achieved through the therapeutic approach taken by the home and wider community. This emphasises developing strategies for achieving aims and aspirations without resorting to inappropriate behaviour. The young people have a Placement Plan, which identifies their long-term needs and how these needs will be met over time, and an ICON, which identifies specific goals and tasks for them to work on over shorter time periods.

Staff support the young people with their health, welfare, religious, linguistic and cultural needs and where appropriate engage outside agencies in order to ensure these needs are fully met. When nearing 16 years of age young people will also have a Pathway plan developed for their transition from care, and this also allows specific goals to be identified, and the work needed to achieve them.

The home is designed to ensure that it is safe, meets the needs of the young people as a whole and individually and more importantly has a homely feel. Each young person has their own room and is encouraged to personalise it. Staff also ensure that 'home comforts' are added, such as throws for the bed in the winter and fans and lighter bedding for the summer months, pictures and posters. Each room has a desk to support the young people to homework independently. The young people are also involved in daily chores in the house, allowing them to feel part of the home and have an investment in how the home looks and feels.

The team supports the young people to attend a wide range of activities, staff work hard to give young people new experiences in safe environments. The activities are centred on being healthy, social and fun and young people are encouraged to be involved in Activity Planning. Staff are also keen to nurture talent, and additional activities such as clubs and groups can be identified for a particular young person who is keen to attend. The home regularly offers young people opportunities to develop self-confidence and improve their communication skills. Staff reward young people's successes and achievements, and offer encouragement, to see that they can achieve and develop the resilience required to acknowledge the behaviours they need to address.

Young people will often display a range of inappropriate behaviours and coping strategies as they progress through the home and there may be periods where additional support is required to ensure they feel safe and cared for. Every effort is made to avoid Police involvement for the young people. Staff are trained in PRICE (A positive trauma informed model of behaviour support) The focus is on de-escalation before intervention. Each staff member completes initial training and refresher training to maintain their skills and update their knowledge. Managers and senior staff review all Physical interventions to ensure staff remain competent in this area and will identify areas where staff require additional training and support. Restraint or physical intervention only takes place if the incident matches a strict criterion; To prevent injury to any person, including the young person who is being restrained or to prevent serious damage to any property, including the young person. Restraint is used for the minimum time frame and with the minimal force required to prevent injury or damage and to allow the young person to calm and regain control.

Aftercare is of paramount importance following any Incident and staff take care to ensure the young person's needs are responded to appropriately, any medical needs are responded to, and the young person has the opportunity to discuss and reflect on the Incident when they feel able to.

Staff are adept at managing difficult situations to avoid problems arising and helping the young people to appreciate why the behaviour is unacceptable. Significant Incidents such as physical interventions and measures of control are well recorded, with attention paid to antecedents as well as the particular incident, with a focus on lessons to be learned.

Where these initial efforts are not sufficient to meet the needs of the young person Crisis Management Plans are used in order to identify additional measures to ensure the young person remains safe, this can mean additional staffing during the day (1:1) and additional staff at night. The aim being to avoid, where possible, placement breakdowns. In some cases, it may be advisable for Psychiatric Assessments to be completed, and external support to be used such as CAMHS and Psychiatric support.

Through staff meetings and discussions, the complex needs of the young people are thought about very carefully. Our Clinical Lead provides expert consultations on all issues related to mental health, risk and treatment, with expertise to complete comprehensive risk assessment, psychopathy assessment, inclusive of assessment of present or emerging personality dysfunction.

Young people are encouraged to undertake independence skills, according to their age and level of understanding, developing their skills throughout their placement. There is also a free time programme, where young people spend time away from staff supervision. All young people will start the programme with 5-10 minutes' free time, but this can be built up over time and increased trust. Increases are requested by the young people and then discussed in Managers meeting by Home Managers, Therapist and Head Teacher and appropriate decisions made.

There is an increasing need for young people to have safe access to the digital world and there is an expectation that Apple Orchard respond to this need, both in the eyes of the placing authorities and Ofsted. Apple Orchard is aware that due to the nature of the young people placed here, many of them have previously had an unhealthy relationship with, or negative experiences of the digital world and will need support to develop digital resilience. Resilience is a dynamic process of positive adaptation in the face of adversity or challenge. This process involves the capacity to negotiate for, and draw upon personal, social, cultural, and environmental resources. Digital resilience therefore draws on helping the young people to recognise, develop and maintain the internal resources to help them to be digitally safe to themselves and others when they leave Apple Orchard. The access to the digital world is therefore closely monitored and supported by staff, allowing young people to access increasing levels of online activity alongside the opportunity to talk and discuss with staff their experiences of this. Education for digital safety and responsibility takes place in therapy and in key working sessions, to ensure that young people understand the realities of the online world and can manage this safely and with confidence.

Towards the end of the young person's placements, staff are involved in the young people's moving on plans. Part of this process involves encouraging young people to take a more active role in the decision-making process and being able to identify their future needs. This may include increased independent skills, college and Work Experience placements, part time employment and increases in free time and independent travel. This allows young people to take an active role in keeping themselves safe in the wider community and to gain familiarity with safely using public transport and easing towards full independence. A record of all communications, decisions and assessments related to moving on are kept in an individual file for the young person. These can be discussed in key working, Therapy sessions and placement reviews in order to ensure that the wishes and feelings of the young people are paramount to the Moving On process.

Working with outside agencies: Apple Orchard has developed a list of contacts within the local community which can offer additional support for the young people and advice when required. These include additional medical support through the Local GP practice which includes the "ONE YOU" programme. This incorporates: Quitting smoking, Healthy eating, Steps to reduce stress levels, good quality sleep and Regular exercise. They also offer access to a Diabetes nurse.

We also have links with Surrey CAMHS in Guildford to support the young people with mental health issues and those who take regular medication for conditions such as ADHD and depression, and with Buryfields Sexual Health Clinic in Guildford for advice on sexual health.

Guildford Borough Council run an Information service for young people called "Careers Explorer" which offers a website for careers advice in Surrey in a number of areas including Careers, employment and Education, Family and Relationships, Health, Housing and homelessness and Personal Finance.

There are also a number of support groups locally which offer advice and support in a range of areas including LGBT:

OUTLINE SURREY provides support to people with their sexuality and gender identity and including but not limited to Lesbian, Gay, Bi-sexual and the Trans community of Surrey.

There are a number of Churches and Places of worship locally catering for a wide range of religions. These include:

Anglican, Baptist, Methodist and Roman Catholic Churches based in Guildford and the surrounding areas. Quakers, Jehovah's Witness, Muslim, and Salvation Army also have places of worship in Guildford and the surrounding areas. Any young person who wishes to follow any religion will be supported by staff to find an appropriate location/ congregation with which they feel comfortable with and to attend regular services.

Supervision

The young people placed at Apple Orchard pose a risk both to themselves and/or others and this is not limited to the wider community. We take the process of supervision seriously but approach it in a very human way; this allows the young people to develop an ongoing dialogue with staff in regard to their harmful sexual behaviour and their risk. There are no cameras or CCTV on site and there are no recordings of electronic monitoring which is present. The following procedures are in place in the home:

- All safety measures, including the door sensors are consistent with a domestic setting and do not create an institutional impression.
- In addition to this, at night there are plug-in speaker monitors that are placed on the upstairs landing and linked to the dining area for the benefit of the waking-night staff. We also have movement alarms located on the upstairs landing and in the corridor where the downstairs bedroom is located.
- The alarm system and the reasons for having it are explained to the young people, along with issues of safety, prior to admission.
- The placing authority consents to the use of electronic monitoring and a record of this consent is kept in the young person's file.

Education

Apple Orchard School has been rated GOOD in its last OFSTED inspection December 2022. Students attending Apple Orchard have often experienced extended periods away from education, so one of the main aims of the school is to have every student attending all classes with a 100% attendance record. Many social services have praised the school for changing student's attitudes and behaviours from being a school refuser or persistent truant to attending school and stating that they enjoy the experience.

Each student is given a baseline assessment using Access reading and Maths assessments to enable us to support each individual student's needs. Their subsequent progress is monitored, assessed, and documented through regular use of formative and summative assessments including end of topic assessments, PUMA and PIRA and SNAP and SNAPB tests.

There are no punitive punishments in school and students are awarded merit points should they perform above and beyond what would be generally regarded as good in a mainstream setting, demonstrating an excellent attitude towards their learning and the teaching staff and the other students.

Small classes, high staff to student ratios and supervision levels allow the students to feel safe and as one parent commented, "are allowed to blossom,". Every student has an opportunity to voice any concerns, worries or achievements to their teachers and each day is reflected upon positively at the end of the day. Student Voice is actively encouraged and the Student Council represents all students and influences the direction of the school. This increases their feelings of self-worth and minimises any chance of bullying or sexually inappropriate behaviours. Students are encouraged to attend meetings every three months where their education and behaviour progress are discussed. EHCPs inform the long-term target setting for students who have them. These targets are broken down into termly targets for the young person's Personal Education Plan. Students who do not have EHCPs have specific long and shorter termly targets set to help to progress their education and behaviour which are then included in the PEP. All students are set a behaviour and academic SMART target at the beginning of each lesson, reviewed at the end.

At Key Stage 4:

All students are encouraged to gain National Certificates over the 3-year study plan. These can include Entry Level qualifications, Functional Skills, and GCSE's. The school can offer English Language, Maths, Combined Science, History, Art, PE, and Geography up to GCSE level and ICT Functional Skills. Further Learning for Employment (Construction & DT) Open Awards and enrichment courses for PSHE and Music. Over the past eight years all students have left with at least one GCSE; however, most have achieved multiple GCSEs up to grade 3, and several have achieved five or more GCSEs at Grade 4 or above. These achievements give the students access to Further Education or Post-16 apprenticeships.

At Key Stage 5:

Further education courses are available at local colleges which can be accessed by students to support their career choices, whilst still being supported by staff from Apple Orchard.

Courses available allow students to have a wide range of opportunities, studying areas such as Sports, Horticulture, Motor Vehicle and Catering. Opportunities are designed to support the student's personal development, employability and to enhance their academic study. Those who have not met the academic requirements at Key Stage 4 can revisit core GCSEs. We offer a Post 16 curriculum to support students who are at college, which includes: Foodwise (Food Preparation & Cooking), Leadership, Road wise (Preparation for Driving), Environmental (in conjunction with the Wildlife Trust), Sport & Fitness, Citizenship and Land Based (Gardening or Animal Care). Levels are also available at KS5, for those looking to future university entry.

Staff

Students are encouraged to work hard at school by good role modelling from the highly qualified and motivated teaching staff. We proactively seek to appoint the best teachers we can and ensure subject specialists in all core areas.

Sporting Activities

The school is a member of the Sussex and Surrey Special Schools Sports Association and plays regular matches in a variety of sports against other schools. Apple Orchard have been County Champions in basketball, badminton, football, and athletics with individuals winning medals in cross-country, go-karting, and archery. Students are given the opportunity to engage in outdoor activities such as high ropes course, paddle-boarding, team building exercises, rock-climbing, and dry slope skiing. The improvements in students' abilities to perform in situations where they are put under competition pressure and their developing confidence in their own abilities through tasting success in sports has been obvious in their behaviours out with school, at home and in therapy.

Extra-Curricular

Students have performed in front of their peers in talent displays, speeches, performing short plays and have attended theatre productions, pantomimes, and religious festivals. We have seen improved confidence and self-worth in students and have recorded the improvements in speaking and listening assessments for English. Students are offered football coaching after school, as well as peripatetic guitar and piano lessons within school time.

Young people mature and develop at Apple Orchard School. They leave with the motivation to succeed and the skills and qualifications to meet their future ambitions.

Therapy

Individual Therapy: Individual Therapy at Apple Orchard continually evolves so that the young people benefit from a therapeutic programme embedded within secure evidence base and consistent up to date training.

The specific needs of each young person are at the heart of everything we do. With the Good Lives Model at the core, a variety of therapeutic methodologies are used flexibly throughout the young person's placement. This demands a highly skilled approach from our expert therapists to ensure that transparent, open, and agreed aims regarding the young person's harmful sexual behaviour are achieved via an attentive, genuine, and nurturing relationship.

Each young person is seen for one hour each week for individual therapy by their allocated therapist. The goals of therapy are openly created between the young person and therapist with a principle objective being to achieve the aims collaboratively. Therapy sessions sometimes include the young person's keyworker to ensure that the issues covered, and goals set in individual therapy are generalised into other areas of the young person's placement, and at minimum consistent communication occurs regularly between therapists and staff members in providing a holistic approach to treatment. It is important to highlight that most of the young people who present to our service have complex needs and often high levels of childhood trauma. As such any focused work on harmful sexual behaviour cannot begin until the young person is feels settled and safe enough in their environment to do so.

Group Therapy: The effectiveness of working with young people in groups has long been recognised as having a particular value with young people who exhibit harmful sexual behaviour. Each young person attends group therapy for one and a quarter hour per week in addition to individual therapy, where they are allocated to one of four groups that best facilitates their level of functioning and communication needs. The groups are facilitated by a therapist and staff member, with a third staff member observing and providing reflection.

Young people themselves tell us that they benefit greatly from hearing other young people voice similar experiences to their own, as this normalises such difficulties for them, particularly when they have felt unable to talk about them on their own. In group therapy young people are left to challenge and discuss with their peers which results in further concreting of appropriate beliefs for themselves in 'learning through Teaching, as well as building on their social skills, problem solving and tolerance of others.

Researchers have identified some benefits and clinical advantages of group therapy for young people. These include the following:

- Interaction between individuals that can be utilised to facilitate change.

- The reduction of the likelihood of a therapist entering a collusive relationship with a client.
- Group interactions can help young people to become more open about abuse-related thoughts, feelings and behaviours, and by doing so, begin to address previously unresolved feelings of guilt, anger, and anxiety.
- A safe and supportive group can provide an environment in which new skills and ways of thinking can be learned, practiced, and developed.
- Group Therapy can provide therapists with valuable insights into participants' motivation to change, since participation in a group typically requires public acknowledgement that there are problems needing to be addressed.
- The group setting affords an environment in which young people who have difficulties in expressing emotions and experiences can learn from others, whilst developing competency in self-disclosure.
- Groups can reduce a sense of isolation; particularly for young people whose problem has a degree of social stigma.
- Important interpersonal and social skills can be effectively learned and practiced in a group setting.
- Groups allow a range of experiential activities which actively engage young people but may not be practical within adult-child interactions.
- Peer relationships and positive reinforcement are considered to be particularly effective with adolescents

ICON: ICON adheres to the five outcomes for young people from Every Child Matters framework; Be healthy, stay safe, Enjoy and achieve, make a positive contribution and achieve economic well-being, and is informed by the Care Quality Standards for Children's Homes. This means that the needs of all young people at Apple Orchard are identified and met both in relation to their general care and their specific therapeutic goals throughout the whole of their placement. The young person's progress in relation to the aims identified in ICON is recorded in the "Progress Tracker" every 12 weeks via Apple Orchard's internal reviews and L.A.C. review meetings.

Structured Therapeutic Family Work: Apple Orchard Therapy also offer an additional service of Therapeutic Family Work. The role of an emotional confidant is a known strength factor in reducing likelihood of further harmful sexual behaviour. At Apple Orchard we pride ourselves on our holistic approach and where possible help each young person to build on their relationships with their family. This may require additional support for the young person and his family, and this takes place in the form of Therapeutic Family Work. Such intervention is aimed at helping the young person to reconnect with family, to verbalise difficult issues within the relationship, and to augment the therapy of the young person.

Such work is carried out independently to the young person's therapy and is arranged separately according to the need of each young person. Therapeutic Family Work draws from Systemic Family Therapy approaches and Narrative therapy and consists of between six to ten sessions depending on the strength of existing relationship between the family members.
